

When Science Meets The Bible

Scientific Facts Versus The Truth

As a child I enjoyed studying Science. I think it must have been the wonder and adventure of discovering new things and how they worked that sparked my interest in Science at an early age. However, as I grew older and found Christ, God, and the Bible; I noticed that the Word of God came under constant attack by Scientists (namely, those that espouse a Big Bang theory and theory of Evolution). These Scientists are not without their ardent proponents and teachers. In fact, these Scientists have gone so far as to replace holy writ that was once the basis and foundation of early childhood education with their theories of Evolution, and theories of how the worlds began, namely the Big Bang theory. You can scarcely find Biblical based teaching in any of our institutions of learning anymore, whether it be grade school, or college these Scientists' theories hold sway over the minds and hearts of millions that are taught in these institutions of learning. One would be laughed at in these institutions, if he or she espoused a biblically based position for the origin of the universe.

The skeptics and modernists will tell us that their Science is based solely on THE FACTS. Now I do not disagree with this, and I personally do not see anything wrong with dealing with “the facts”. After all, on the basis of “the facts”, people are either condemned or acquitted in a court of law; but facts can have gray areas, too, and be misrepresented. Now there is a distinct difference between TRUTH and FACTS. Facts can sometime lead you down the wrong path, while the truth will never steer you wrong. For example, Scientists found a tooth that they stated (based on “the facts”) belonged to an early ancestor of human beings. They built a humanoid type model around this single tooth as to how this person might have looked, they printed materials and books based on their facts, and even taught these facts in their institutions of higher learning; however, this tooth after further examination turned out not to be the tooth of an early ancestor of man, but in fact, was a tooth that belonged to a pig. It is FACTual that they found a tooth, but what was the TRUTH concerning it? Facts can be mishandled or misrepresented. Truth does not make grave mistakes such as this. (Now some have mishandled and misrepresented God's truth, but God's truth is unchangeable and does not error). Let God be true and every man a liar. See Romans 3:4.

Science deals with limited facts that they have at their disposal. Truth with God as its source is unlimited and is not bound by earthly and human limitations. Now I thank God that He gave men wisdom to deal with a variety of things at their disposal, no matter how limited they might be. Men have made great strides in technology and medicine, but this does not make people wiser than their creator, nor does it give them the audacity and arrogance to deny His existence. Just because men can manipulate a bunch of cells in a test tube does not give them the right to deny the existence of their Creator. He is Creator of ALL THINGS, whether they believe it or not! Just because men are unsure as to the origins of life does not give them the right to remove God out of the equation, or deny that an intelligent God could have created all living things. They are more prone to believe that everything came together by a happy, little accident than to believe that an intelligent God designed all things for His glory. The truth is, by the evidence of the existence of all things there has to be an intelligent designer. Else, where could it have come from? Could it have just appeared out of thin air? Could nothing have caused the sun to shine, and the heavens to rain, and the earth to grow crops, and people to walk therein? This cannot be denied: A happy, little accident could not be the architect of such an intelligent design, and order, like we see throughout the entire universe. This must be the work of an intelligent designer of all creation. God exists! All of creation is the work of His hands and is proof of His existence. See Isaiah 40:12; 45:12. The truth is you are here because God exists, not because of some happy, little accident, or Big Bang, or Evolution, or cosmic soup. God has left Himself a witness to His goodness and care of His creation. Please read Acts 14:17.

Newton's Apple

Scientists in the beginning were not so arrogant as today's modernists and skeptics. In fact, one of the greatest Scientist to ever live, Sir Isaac Newton, believed in an intelligent God! He would not have dared denied the existence of God as some of our Scientists do today. I tell you, Newton was a lot smarter than these eggheads. In fact, Newton's idea of the universe included an intelligent designer - GOD! To Newton nothing else made more sense than an intelligent God who created all living things and the earth to be inhabited by man.

Today's Scientists think themselves more wiser and enlightened than Newton, but, the fact is, without Newton's laws and computations men would not know how to fly, or explore outer space, or any of the things we modern people take for granted. Newton's laws are the basis for these things. This man came up with his own branch of mathematics called "calculus". Men would be hard pressed to build sound structures without the knowledge and existence of this branch of mathematics. Newton knew that it was God that gave him the wisdom and understanding to figure these things out. Who else but God could give a man wisdom to figure out the laws of gravity based on an apple falling from a tree? This seems so simple, but it is true. How many apples fell from trees before Newton came along? This is how our God works. He takes the seemingly foolish things of the world to confound the wise at heart. See 1 Corinthians 1:20, 25, 27-29.

If Newton could read these modern Scientific books on Evolution and the Big Bang theory that are espoused in our institutions of learning, he would no doubt laugh these Scientists to scorn. You see Newton knew that there is a God and that He exists.

Science and Faith

What Scientist using his test tube and modern equipment can create his own earth to bring forth crops from the earth to nourish both men and animals? Listen to what the Psalmist says: "He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and the herb for the service of man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth". See Psalm 104:14. Without God men would starve to death. Can your Scientists feed the earth's populations? Now some self justifying skeptic will say: "Then why are there starving masses of people if God feeds the entire world?" Well, my dear skeptic, it is because of sin. God has given us plenty, but because of sin, men take and hoard to themselves more than enough, and do not share with their neighbor. In addition, they spend billions to fight and wage wars against each other, and do not spend enough money to help their brothers who are in need. Sin is why some have lack and why some have plenty. Sin is the reason why poverty exists.

Now sinner, I know you don't think that God exists. But God demands FAITH from His people. If you don't believe in God then you cannot be one of His. Faith is the first step towards God, therefore, you must first seek Him! See Hebrews 11:6; Isaiah 55:6-7. To be devoid of faith or have very little faith is no good at all. You must with all of your heart, soul, mind, and strength believe that there is a God. Now Scientists cannot put this under their microscopes, neither can they measure it. Faith is a spiritual act and can only be examined and measured by the heart. See Romans 10:8-11; 2 Corinthians 4:13-14.

All of God's miracles demand faith! Scientists cannot measure a miracle because it surpasses all of their intellect and limited human knowledge and understanding. They can only speculate. They can never explain an all powerful, mighty, miracle working God. They will tell you, well, Noah's flood was only a local flood, or where the Israelites crossed the Red Sea was only four feet deep, or the blood in the Nile river was only red mud, or an earthquake toppled those walls of Jericho, or that cancer is in spontaneous remission, or was misdiagnosed! The list goes on and on! They don't believe anything they can't see! They don't believe anything they can't figure out! If they can't reason it out, well, then it must have been something else. It can never be a miracle from God. If it is not plain to their senses then it should not be believed. This is their error and they lead others down the same path of doubt and destruction. Don't they realize that they make God out to be liar when they say it happened this way, or that way.

Evolution is a theory and is not compatible with what God said in Genesis chapter 1. It can never be. Big Bang makes God out to be a liar because the Bible reads "In the beginning God..." Now God CANNOT LIE. It is impossible. See Numbers 23:19; 2 Timothy 2:13; Titus 1:2; Hebrews 6:18. It is men who lie, and who are filled with hatred and self love. Man must be saved from himself.

Science and Creation

These Scientists and those that believe them will tell you based on the law of probability that there must be life elsewhere in the universe other than earth. They will tell you if there was a happy, little accident in our solar system, then there must be another happy, little accident somewhere else given the vast, enormous size of the universe and the evidence of chemicals found here on earth and on other worlds. They have faith to believe this and not to believe God! Some have more faith to believe that there are UFOs and strange visitors from other planets across the vast reaches of the universe rather than to believe that God exists and can do miracles. They call those who hold a Biblical view of the world arrogant and misguided because they don't believe that there is life anywhere else but on earth. They will ask you, what makes you so arrogant to believe that we are the only ones' in the entire universe given its enormous size? The answer is simple. God did not say that there was life on other planets. And given their scientific exploration of the planets and advance technology in Astronomy they should already know this. There is no life out there! It is lifeless, but there is order in the universe, so much so, that we can navigate the oceans by the stars. We can keep time by the orbits of the stars, and they are never off, or late like your alarm clock. What a mighty God we serve!

Planets and stars have a purpose for existing. For that purpose please read Genesis 1:14-18. It is not for man to try to inhabit these other worlds. It would not be in his best interest. Man is terrestrial, earthly, not celestial or other worldly. Man is best suited for this planet -- earth; and is made up of the very dust of the earth. See Genesis 2:7. So you see it makes no sense to go elsewhere. Man is not suited for Mars or some other planet. God will not let him get away with going to another planet. See Genesis 11:4. When God created the entire universe as recorded in the first chapter of Genesis there is no mention of other worlds with life on them. If it were so, God would have told us so.

Man and earth are the unique and special creations of God in the entire universe. God explains His creation in very simple terms and details, so that a small child could understand them. So that a fool could not error therein. He simply explained the creation to Moses with all of His power and wisdom, put in a way that even the foolish could understand and not get it wrong. However, the wise in heart get it wrong, and the evil mind misunderstands these truths contained in the first chapter of Genesis because they don't have faith.

God plainly states that every living thing was created after its own KIND. He did not say that all life forms slowly evolved from other life forms, but that they were created after their own kind or prototype. A bird cannot produce an elephant. Birds come from other birds made like unto themselves. God created a bird after its original prototype. An apple comes from its own KIND or prototype. If evolution is a fact, as they say, then why didn't a tree yielding fruit, whose seed is in itself, producing fruit after its own kind or prototype evolve like man did? A fruit tree is a living thing, too. Evolution should encompass all life forms if it were true. Don't you think? Where did an apple come from? Did all living things come from the seas, or perhaps they hitched a ride on the back of a comet or asteroid that traveled across the vast reaches of outer space?

I tell you an apple looks the same today as it did on the first day of creation!

Why? because when it was created by God it was created after its own kind or original prototype, and it produced fruit after its own kind. Fruit good for eating and full of nourishment for the human body. No man goes to a banana tree looking for apples or oranges. You would think that man was nuts. Yet the evolutionist do this very same thing. They go to apes and monkeys to find a man when they should look to a wonderful, miracle working God to find themselves. Now man is created after THE GOD kind, and is no product of any animal, or beast, or amoeba dragged from the seas, or from the vast reaches of outer space. A man is created after the image and likeness of God, his Creator. God is man's prototype and man is created after God's likeness. You cannot mix a fish and a monkey and expect to get a man. Everything is a product of its kind or prototype. Man is the offspring of his creator and is like his creator in every way. See Acts 17:28-29; Luke 3:38. Life forms might be able to adapt, but they can never evolve from one lower life form to something entirely different, or better. Every life form has the DNA of its original prototype programmed into it, and that DNA can never change, or evolve, or morph into something else entirely different than what God originally intended. God, the great designer of the universe has intelligently encoded every living thing with its very own unique DNA code. You cannot get a man from a monkey, or an ape. This is satanic in thought and makes God out to be a liar who clearly states that man was created in His image and after His own likeness. Furthermore, these theories are satanic in nature because they are just excuses for these people to not believe that God exists, or so they don't have to get saved and filled with the Holy Spirit of promise, and serve God. There are no excuses that they can ever come up with for not believing and serving God. At the judgment they can never hold water. They are all in rebellion because man wants to have things his way, and not God's way. Forget about what God wants. Man wants to be the captain of his own ship. This is outright rebellion.

Dinosaurs and the Bible

We know that God created giant beasts. However, if Dinosaurs truly existed God would have told us so. I don't find their existence in the first chapter of Genesis. Do you? Man's Science will find one bone then construct an entire Dinosaur from it. This should make the reader uneasy and suspicious of their motives. Why do they want us to believe in the existence of giant, flesh eating, ferocious beast that roamed the earth billions of years ago? Dinosaurs are figments of men's cunning and evil imaginations. No one has ever seen a Dinosaur, yet, many believe beyond a shadow of doubt that they existed because their Science said so. There are many people today that give more credence to the existence of Dinosaurs, UFOs and space travelers from a distant planet than they do to the existence of God.

God said that He gave us His only begotten Son so that we might be saved and have life more abundantly, and yet, they don't believe that. No, not for one second! They don't want to hear this! Instead, they choose to close their ears and their hearts to the Gospel message, calling it religious madness (Acts 26:24-25). Why believe in the existence of Dinosaurs and not God? Why believe with all of your hearts and minds in the theory of Evolution and the Big Bang theory, and yet, not believe in God, or His testimony and record concerning Himself? Why turn the back and heart and mind on God? He did nothing to hurt or offend you. Why give more credence to your Science than you do to God? I will tell you why. It is because you are a wicked and adulterous generation that has no faith, and without faith it is impossible to please God, let alone be saved. Give God the glory you scoffers and nay sayers! Believe God and your Science will fall in line with His truth. Believe not your so-called facts. Don't you know that your Science cannot save or deliver you from the storm that is about to hit (2 Peter 3:9-12)? Maranatha!
